

49° 17' N 119° 35' W

July 4, 1985 Mahoney Lake ERP 369 Notes of Hans Roemer with Louis A. Goulet

We are on the small peninsula near the south end of the lake and the cover is open Ponderosa pine of all ages ~~and~~ classes

- Ribes cereum
 Chrysothamnus nauseosus
 Artemisia tridentata
 Agropyron spicatum
 Koeleria macrantha
 Poa sandbergii
 tremendous amounts of weeds Poa pratensis Centaurea diffusa lots of it
 Melilotus alba
 Melilotus officinalis
 continuing with the natives Calochortus macrocarpus in flower Achillea millefolium
 Balsamorhiza sagittata
 Stipa comata
 Lomatium triternatum
 Plantago the little weedy wooly species
 Madia sp. more annuals
 Symphoricarpos albus
 Amelanchier alnifolia
 Lithospermum ruderales
 Bromus sterilis
 Polygonum douglasii the long stringy one Festuca idahoensis
 among the weeds is alfalfa here Medicago sativa
 Tragopogon dubius
 Hordeum jubatum
 Distichlis ~~spicata~~ stricta
 among the trees
 Rosa acicularis
 Lactuca sp. collected blue-flowered
 Prunus virginiana
 Delphinium nuttallianum
 Mahonia aquifolium
 Woodsia scopulina
 Selaginella wallacei
 Juncus arcticus along the saline shore
 Aster pansus
 Potentilla anserina
 Killdeer plover for the bird list
 among the rocks
 Juncus balticus
 Heuchera chlorantha
 Rhus toxicodendron
 Gaillardia aristata
 Lotus sp. all yellow
 Scirpus lacustris
 Ranunculus sp. collected
~~Panicum sp. small annual sp. collected~~
 Panicum capillaris
 Antennaria corymbosa
 Puccinellia sp
 Scirpus nevadensis or americana collected Triglochin maritima Panicum another one which may be the real thing here possibly the other were only seedlings P. occidentale collected

Agrostis cf. ~~canadensis~~
Cirsium sp.

Another random listing on the other side of the lake

Shepherdia canadensis

Chrysothamnus nauseosus

Rhus glabra

Eriogonum heracleoides

Cirsium ~~heracleoides~~ undulatum the pale pink flowered one

Gilia aggregata

Lomatium multifidum

Phladelphus lewisii

scattered Douglas firs among the ponderosa pine

Astragalus miser

Opuntia fragilis

Antennaria umbrinella

Erigeron filifolius

end of Mahoney lake recording